The second and final leg of the Argentinean Panam Trials finished last Thursday with the last race of Campeonato San Isidro Labrador 2015. The event had ten races scheduled, and racing was tight among the top three crews. Wind and current conditions was tough for the sailors, with winds from 5 to 19 knots and strong current in many races.

The event winner was the team of Nicolás Fracchia, Gonzalo Pollitzer and María Paula Salerno, with six bullets over nine races. This team started racing before last South Americans in Ecuador, where they finished 2nd, and in this event they showed great consistency and speed to take the event by a good and solid lead.

Runner ups was Pepe Bettini and crews Tommy Dietrich and Trini Silva. They also were battling for a spot in Toronto 2015. Mario Fumagallo took third place in the regatta.

The combination of last South Americans and SIL 2015 points determined that the Nicolás Fracchia’s team will represent Argentina in Toronto 2015 is . Congrats to them and the rest of the teams!!
