What a great weekend of beautiful weather, sailing, and friends in Annapolis, MD. The 59th annual Frigid Digit regatta did not disappoint. After a quick sail out to the racecourse, the race committee sent everyone back to the dock due to the high winds; we stayed on shore Saturday and enjoyed the town of Annapolis, the Naval Academy, boat show, etc. SSA provided super hospitality, free beer and a nice cookout. The RC moved Sunday's start time up and was able to get in four nice races in a 10-15 kt westerly. My team of Jody and Ian, once again, did a super job on the boat, making my job in the back easy. They are truly a thrill to sail with. I am a lucky skipper!

Many thanks to Fleet 329 and the core group of Lightning sailors and members who really make it tick there. We always look forward to coming back to SSA. Speaking of coming back, next year marks the 60th Frigid Digit regatta. The SSA folks are already promoting it! If you have sailed the regatta in the past, please come again next year. If you have never been to Annapolis in October, I urge you to support the regatta and come see what you have been missing. It's a real treat.
