For the second year running Nabeel Alsalam and his seasoned crew finished first after the spray settled in the final race. The two days at this 5th annual event were blessed with varied winds and the steady hand of John/Julie Heffner on the RC boat along with friends from the J-24 fleet.

A day one start @11:40am and steady breeze in the 8-10 range allowed the competitors ample time to get in 4 W/L courses and off the water to nearby host Tidewater Marina. This convenience allowed time to put the boat away, shower then enjoy snacks, beer and a cook your own sirloin/salmon feast. This all was followed by celebrations in Havre de Grace's quaint town establishments. Sailors enjoyed the usual lies and hand karate demonstrations which surely amused the public and an unusual survey completed by a few nameless female competitors, most then headed to bed to rest up for expected higher winds on Sunday.

Day 2 started earlier to allow enough racing and time for sailors to hit the road. The winds were lighter than expected in the 4-8 mph range with some dramatic oscillations in the final race which tested the patience of all the competitors. The hand painted Duck decoys by local artist Dave Walker were presented to the top 5 finishers and crew.
